

SCHOFIELD WINS OUT

The Oconto Man Is Named By The Republicans.

SUPPORT COMES ON EACH BALLOT.

His Nomination is Made Unanimous Amid Cheers.

LA FOLLETTE DROPS FROM 261 BACK TO 238

Baensch's Strength Also Grows as the Contest Continues—How Rock County Ballots Were Cast—Walworth Goes Over to Schofield—The Motion to Make Schofield the Unanimous Choice Was Made in Behalf of LaFollette's Friends by H. C. Adams.

Exposition Hall, Milwaukee, Aug. 6.—[Special]—Hot seconding speeches with every effort to impress the convention by a show of enthusiasm for one candidate then the other, occupied the first two hours of the republican state convention session this morning. Tension was high and was increased when the LaFollette motion to dispense with the informal ballot was adopted. The first ballot was formal, and resulted:

LaFollette.....	261
Schofield.....	249
Baensch.....	83
Elliott.....	48
Bradford.....	31
Estabrook.....	6

Rock county voted: Schofield, 3; LaFollette, 15; Elliott, 5. Green and La Fayette are solid for LaFollette. Walworth, Racine and Kenosha are split.

Schofield Makes Gains

Schofield made gains in the First, Third, Fourth and Sixth districts on the second ballot. It stood:

Schofield.....	268
LaFollette.....	258
Baensch.....	83
Elliott.....	33
Bradford.....	22
Estabrook.....	30

Rock county's votes did not change, but Walworth swung into the Schofield column in a body.

The third formal ballot developed more strength for Schofield. It stood:

Schofield.....	293
LaFollette.....	250
Baensch.....	90
Elliott.....	22
Bradford.....	8
Estabrook.....	3

Big Gain on Fourth Ballot.

The fourth ballot developed more gains for Schofield. It stood:

Schofield.....	315
LaFollette.....	250
Baensch.....	94
Elliott.....	9
Bradford.....	8
Estabrook.....	3

Schofield Still Led

The fifth ballot brought more votes to both Schofield and Baensch, while LaFollette lost 12. The vote stood:

Schofield.....	323
LaFollette.....	238
Baensch.....	108
Elliott.....	5
Estabrook.....	3
Bradford.....	2

An attempt to adjourn was lost by a majority of 50. Racine at once agreed to swing into line for Schofield.

LaFollette Men Fall.

After the fourth ballot, the anti-Schofield men joined in an effort to force an adjournment amid great excitement. The motion was lost by a vote of 33 1/2 to 33 1/4.

The LaFollette men hoped to swing the convention to Baensch if the adjournment had carried. Baensch leaders complained that the LaFollette men had held off one ballot too long.

Rock Goes to Schofield.

Rock swung for Schofield, with but one vote for LaFollette. This meant Schofield's nomination, and tremendous cheering followed. The districts gave Schofield 52; LaFollette 15; and Baensch 1. LaFollette started the boom for J. G. Monahan, for lieutenant governor, by giving the Darling-ton editor eight votes.

Made Unanimous

The roll call was interrupted at the Fourth district by H. C. Adams' motion in behalf of the friends of LaFollette, to make Schofield's nomination unanimous. The motion was carried and a love feast followed.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 6.—High temper and high temperature combined to make Wednesday's session of the republican state convention an event that will long be remembered. It was merely skirmishing for the first few hours, and the LaFollette people did not show their hand until it came to the seconding speeches. H. C. Adams, of Dane county, the food and dairy commissioner of the state, had made the opening speech, placing LaFollette's name before the convention, and the other four candidates had in turn been placed in nomination, when a delegate arose and moved that seconding speeches be limited to five minutes each, if there were to be any. To this the leaders of the rival forces agreed. The gaunt form of ex-Gov. Hoard arose when the 2d district was called, and he moved slowly toward the platform. There was a burst of applause as he reached the platform. When it had subsided he began a statement of his position on the Bennett law issue, which was a complete surprise to the great majority of those who heard him. It was not a recantation, but the manly acknowledgment of a beaten man. The LaFollette people sent to the platform immediately after Hoard a Lutheran minister of Dane county to second LaFollette's nomination. It was the Rev. Mr. Herbele, who has charge of four Lutheran congregations in Dane county, and he announced that his people believed the Bennett law question had been settled for good, that there was no danger of its coming up again and he and his people were for Robert LaFollette as the republican candidate for governor.

He was followed when the 4th, the Milwaukee, district was reached, by a colored delegate named Green, who seconded the nomination of LaFollette. By this time the enthusiasm for the Dane county man was becoming infectious, and the other forces saw a danger of a stampede. They accordingly rushed T. W. Spence, a Schofield man, to the platform, thus playing into the hands of LaFollette, who was now simply killing time in order to prevent a ballot being taken before the adjournment. Mr. Spence claimed the Bennett law issue was not dead. This was greeted with interruption of dissent from the body of the convention, and some on the stage, which had been reserved for prominent republicans, hissed.

Theodore Zillmer of Milwaukee had gone to the stage to second LaFollette's nomination and had waived his right to allow Spence to speak for Schofield. There was a move to cut off further seconding speeches, but Zillmer was on the platform, and, seeing that a ballot could not be reached, Chairman Griffin announced that an adjournment would have to be taken in a few moments. H. W. Adams at once moved to adjourn until 10 o'clock this morning, and it was promptly carried. The temporary organization of the convention was not made permanent.

C. A. Lamoreaux of Ashland, the temporary chairman, proved to be hardly large enough to handle the crowd, and Gen. Michael Griffin of Eau Claire was decided upon to take his place.

The following platform was presented and adopted:

"The republicans of Wisconsin in convention assembled, announce their cordial and hearty indorsement of the platform of principles adopted by the late national republican convention of St. Louis, and pledge a loyal, united and vigorous support of the principles and policies therein announced and defined. We believe that the restoration to power in national affairs of the party that stands for a sound and stable currency, honest money with which to pay the wages of labor, buy the products of the farm and factory and carry on the business of this great country, and for a fair and equitable protective tariff that will protect all the people and every section of the country, give employment to American labor and preserve to American producers the first chance in our home markets, and at the same time give us enough revenue to pay the necessary expenses of carrying on the government, lies the only hope of a return to our former prosperity.

"We recognize in William McKinley and Garret A. Hobart, our nominees for president and vice-president, the highest character and fitness—candidates in whose wisdom, integrity and patriotism all the people can safely put their trust and confidence.

"We express our unqualified disapproval of the utterances of the late Chicago convention upon matters of national policy. We denounce them as dangerous in their character, tending to the destruction of all business securities and prosperity and subversive of the fundamental principles of good government. We commend most heartily the able, economical and business-like conduct of public affairs by our present state administration.

"The republican party believes in liberty of conscience, non-sectarianism in public affairs, entire separation of church and state, in free common schools, and the utmost independence of individual thought, speech and action within the law.

"We favor the restriction of undesirable immigration as opposed to the interests of our laboring people, and approve the enactment of measures to prevent fraudulent naturalization.

"We cordially invite the voters of Wisconsin, without regard to past political affiliation, to the support of the principles herein announced."

PLAN TO NAME SIBLEY.

If Sewall and Watson Agree to the Scheme.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—J. E. Leslie, state chairman of the people's party and the head of the populists in this state, said yesterday the national leaders had a scheme to throw over both Sewall and Watson and that Joseph C. Sibley, who refused the vice-presidential nomination at Chicago, would be agreed on as a second place compromise. It is said he has now made up his mind to accept, and his name may be placed on the ticket. The selection of Sibley, if made, will be by the executive committees of both parties. Watson is said to be willing to quit, but Sewall, it is asserted, refuses to step aside. It is claimed that "Jerry" Simpson, "Lafe" Pence and the other leaders who secured Bryan's indorsement will support Sibley. The latter, Leslie says, has been sorry ever since he declined the nomination at Chicago. Leslie says the matter will be settled before Aug. 12.

Texas Populists Wrangle.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 6.—The populist state convention got no further than permanent organization, and then adjourned. The delegates got into a wrangle over the order of business, which was finally straightened out so that the first thing to-day is the consideration of the platform. There are three elements in the convention. One is for Bryan and Watson and the nomination of electors, eight of whom are to be withdrawn if, when the democrats hold their convention, they will leave seven blanks for populist electors, and whichever party wins in the state, that party is to have the electors. The second plan favors indorsement of the St. Louis platform, remaining silent on nominees, and in case the democrats do not pull down Sewall, have the votes cast for Norton and Watson. The third plan wants to indorse the platform, elect electors and leave the rest of the matter in the hands of the executive committee.

Lon. V. Stevens Named.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 6.—Senator Charles E. Peers, of Warren, was chosen permanent chairman of the democratic state convention. Senator Vest, who was in the hall, responded to repeated calls for a speech, which was received with cheers. The platform adopted at Chicago, declared the senator, was democratic in every word and syllable, and he felt certain that Missouri would give it an unprecedented majority. At the conclusion of Senator Vest's speech W. M. Williams, of Booneville, placed Lon V. Stevens, of Cooper, in nomination for governor, under a suspension of the rules. James R. Waddill, of St. Louis, and David Ball, of Pike, were withdrawn and Stevens' nomination made unanimous. Mr. Stevens made a speech thanking the convention, after which a recess was taken until 8 o'clock.

Fusion Wins in West Virginia.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 6.—The populist state nominating convention convened here Wednesday. The platform is short, but ratifies the St. Louis platform and the candidates. They urge the abolition of the free system and a reduction of the state officials' salary. At 10 o'clock at night, after wrangling over the question of indorsing a democrat or whether to nominate a "middle of the road" man, the populist convention nominated Isaac Cox Ralphsnyder of Fairmont for governor. Ralphsnyder has been canvassing the state for months for the democratic nomination. It is thought the rest of the ticket will be straight populist.

Headquarters to Be in Chicago.

Canton, O., Aug. 6.—Chicago will be the republican headquarters and New York will have only a branch. This conclusion is announced here with authority and reasons are given for the statement. It is recognized by Mr. Hanna that the main battle for votes is to be made in the west, and consequently Chicago will be more convenient as a base of supplies for campaign literature and other information incident to the work of the presidential struggle.

Pennsylvania Fusionists Win.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—The state convention of the people's party was held here Wednesday. The question of fusion on presidential electors was the most difficult problem up for discussion. In the platform co-operation was urged. A letter was read from Joseph Sibley urging one ticket. State Chairman Leslie said the populists will insist on the gold democrat electors in Pennsylvania retiring from the ticket. There are seventeen of them. If they do not retire the populists will put up electors of their own.

Leedy for Governor of Kansas.

Abilene, Kas., Aug. 6.—The populist state convention had three lively sessions Wednesday. The conference committee received notice from the democratic convention delegates at Hutchinson that no compromise would be considered, and that the democratic electoral ticket must be indorsed in full. Four ballots were taken for governor. The third showed 25 gain for Leedy, and the fourth was a stampede to Leedy, who was nominated.

Senator Peffer Wants Renomination.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 6.—Senator W. A. Peffer has authorized the announcement that he is a candidate for re-election to the United States senate. In his card he says he has no claims beyond many other faithful populists, and urges only one superior qualification—that of six years' experience.

New Hampshire Prohibitionists.

Concord, N. H., Aug. 6.—The prohibition party met in state convention here Wednesday. The following nominations were made: Governor, J. C. Berry, Plymouth. Electors: Dr. E. L. Carr, Pittsfield; Eben Ferris, Manchester; Samuel C. Sawyer, Littleton; Franklin L. Sprague, Keene.

PINGREE IS CHOSEN AT GRAND RAPIDS WILL BE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

The Choice Was Made This Afternoon on the Fourth Ballot—The Platform Declares For Gold—Text of the Document—The Work at the Convention Yesterday.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 6.—Hazen S. Pingree was nominated for governor by the Michigan republicans, on the fourth ballot, this afternoon.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 6.—The republican state nominating convention met Wednesday with the galleries and platform packed. The convention was called to order by State Chairman D. M. Ferry. The Rev. Dr. John L. Jackson invoked the divine blessing, and then Victor M. Gore was introduced as temporary chairman. He made a vigorous speech in favor of gold.

The speech was frequently applauded, especially all reference to the gold standard. D. E. L. Ward of Clare was made temporary secretary.

At 7:30 the committee on credentials was unable to agree on the St. Clair contest, and the convention decided to receive the report on all other counties and allow the committee until 9 o'clock to consider the St. Clair matter, and thirty minutes to each side of the St. Clair fight to present its claims. Ex-Lieutenant-Governor J. Wight Giddings of Cadillac was made permanent chairman, and Burt Parker of Monroe permanent secretary.

The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted without debate or amendment, as follows:

"The republicans of Michigan, in convention assembled, do affirm:

"1. We declare our continued allegiance to the republican party, which now, as heretofore, stands for the upholding of law and order, the encouragement and protection of the commerce of our country, its industries, its labor, its farms and firesides, the development of its resources, the maintenance of its credit and the defense of its honor among the nations of the world.

"2. We accept and indorse the platform of the national republican convention of 1896 at St. Louis, and we call upon all loyal citizens of the republic to unite in its support.

"3. We denounce the so-called democratic national platform recently adopted at Chicago for its insults to our courts and our judges, for its pandering to disorder and mob violence, for its sympathy with anarchism, for its proposal to repudiate public and private debts, for its intention to substitute silver monometallism in place of the wise and liberal policy of the republican party, which has been and is the use of gold, silver and paper as the currency of the nation.

"4. We congratulate the party upon the eminently wise and satisfactory selection of its standard-bearers in the present national campaign. We zealously emphasize our fealty to that distinguished American statesman, William McKinley, who best embodies those patriotic and progressive expressions of economic purposes—protection, reciprocity and honest money—and our equally unreserved confidence in the ability and fitness of the candidate for vice-president, Garret A. Hobart.

"5. We indorse the administration of our honored executive, Governor John T. Rich, whose fearless and vigorous fidelity is commended. We favor the strictest economy in all state departments. We pledge our earnest co-operation in carrying out the will of this convention as should be expressed in its choice of candidates for various state offices, and submit our cause to the voters, confident of victory."

The convention then decided to proceed with the presentation of candidates for governor, and forgot all about the St. Clair case.

Nominating speeches were called for. Judge Wisner of Flint presented the name of D. D. Aitkin. C. E. Townsend of Jackson that of James O'Donnell, Judge J. H. McAlvay of Manistee spoke for Wheeler, Benton Hanchett of Saginaw for Bliss and Charles Fowler of Detroit for Pingree. The committee on credentials finally came in with two reports. After a heated debate it was decided by a majority of three to seat both delegations from St. Clair. The nomination will be made to-day, the convention adjourning at midnight. Pingree, it is thought, will be well in the lead on the first ballot, and he or a dark-horse candidate will be named for governor unless Bliss stock revives.

HOLCOMB AND FUSION.

Populist Convention Meets at Hastings, Neb.

Hastings, Neb., Aug. 6.—The populist state convention met here Wednesday. Chairman Arthur Edgerton of the state central committee called the convention to order at 11 o'clock, and prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Isham of Hastings. A. H. Weir of Lincoln was unanimously named as temporary chairman. Committees were named and a recess taken.

When the convention reassembled there was a general call for Senator Allen. He expressed his gratification that the populists of Nebraska could turn out such a representative body of men as he saw before him. The duty before them was momentous. They could not carry Nebraska alone. Mr. Bryan's party could not carry it alone. The senator then proceeded to give a new scheme that had been arranged by the leaders during the day. That was to leave the selection of the electoral ticket to the state central committee. He said that the present state of affairs was incongruous, and if an understanding in regard to vice-president was reached by the national committee of the two parties the Nebraska committee could then act accordingly.

This proposal was received rather frigidly by the convention.

The committee on permanent organization recommended J. M. Gaffin of Saunders county for chairman and the temporary secretary for secretary. This was adopted and Mr. Gaffin was escorted to the chair. P. H. Barry of Lancaster moved that the matter of the selection of the electoral ticket be referred to the executive committee of the state central committee, to act in accordance with the sentiment of the platform to be thereafter adopted. He briefly urged the advisability of this action, and half a dozen delegates rose to oppose it. Porter of Merrick county offered an amendment to leave it to the entire state central committee. The motion, as amended, prevailed, the state central committee being given full power to act, and in case no agreement shall be reached by the national committee of the free-silver, democratic and populist parties with reference to Sewall and Watson, then the state central committee shall name the Nebraska electors, at least five of whom shall be populists. Gov. Holcomb was nominated by acclamation, as was State Senator T. E. Harris of Nemaha county for lieutenant-governor. It was agreed that vacancies be left on the ticket to be filled by the silver democratic convention Aug. 25, and a committee of fourteen was appointed to confer with a democratic committee to agree upon a division of places on the state ticket.

GOLD MEN HAPPY.

Many Going to Indianapolis—Another Convention Certain.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 6.—The letters and telegrams received at the headquarters of the national democratic gold standard movement here indicate that the gathering Friday in this city will be much larger than the managers had anticipated. William D. Bynum, the member of the executive committee, who is in charge of the preliminary work, said that he had received notice that twenty-eight states have appointed members of the national committee. The east, Mr. Bynum says, is joining in the movement with more spirit than had been expected.

Committeeman Bynum says it is assured in advance of the meeting of the committee that a convention will be called. The correspondence of the executive committee, he says, will show the committeemen upon their arrival that the demand for a convention is universal. While there are a few gold standard democrats in the east who are inclined to oppose the movement, there is a widespread demand for the convention, even in that section. It is the understanding that Senator John M. Palmer of Illinois will be made temporary chairman of the committee. Representatives of several cities that would like to entertain the convention will be here to speak to the committee. Indianapolis, Detroit, Louisville, Minneapolis and Chicago will be in the race.

CLAIM FRAUD IN ALABAMA.

Goodwyn's Friends Look Askance at Johnston's Figures.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 6.—Further returns from Monday's election show that Johnston and the democratic ticket have carried forty-one counties, while Goodwyn, populist, has twenty-two. Three counties—Pike, Gullman and Tallapoosa—are close and in doubt. Johnston's official and estimated majorities amount to 48,873, while Goodwyn's majorities are 9,295, leaving Johnston's net majority at 39,668. The official canvass of the vote Saturday will, it is thought, not vary from these figures.

For the legislature later reports show that the house stands seventy-four democrats, a gain of ten members; twenty populists and six doubtful. In the senate the democrats have elected thirteen members, the populists three and one is in doubt. This gives the democrats over three-fourths of the legislature.

Opponents to Johnston claim the election was characterized by frauds more widespread than those of any previous elections, and that in the black belt it was conducted in defiance of law and contempt for the opposition, which the law required to be recognized by from three to ten representatives at every poll. They claim Goodwyn has been elected by from 16,000 to 18,000 majority in the white counties, and received about 40,000 votes in the black belt, but these 40,000 votes, they say, are counted for Johnston, giving him a majority of about 25,000.

Nebraska Campaign Opened.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 6.—Ex-Congressman Horr of New York opened the campaign for the republicans in this state Wednesday night. He spoke to a large crowd in the M street park, urging the election of McKinley.

New Emir of Iran Is Elected.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Aug. 6.—The state sovereign convocation of the Princess of Iran has chosen E. H. Hibben of Marshalltown sovereign emir and has selected Marshalltown as the place of the next convocation.

TWO-YEAR-OLD CHILD KILLED BY A LION

BLOODY EPISODE ENACTED AT CHILLOCOOTHE, O.

Its Skull Crushed Before Its Mother's Eyes—Brave Rescue of the Body by the Father—Incident Almost Causes a Panic—Animal Was a Pet.

Chillicothe, O., Aug. 6.—A 2-year-old child was killed by a lion at the fair grounds here Wednesday and a panic ensued, during which at least one other person was seriously injured.

A portion of Hagenback's animal show occupies the tent just inside the gate, and a big lion was chained inside the gate as an attraction. Eddie Hurd, a 2-year-old son of Thomas Hurd, who has charge of the show, was playing near the lion. The brute watched the child as he came nearer and nearer, and finally, with a movement quick as lightning, seized the child's head in its jaws. The father sprang on the lion and with the greatest difficulty forced the beast to open its jaws and picked up the quivering form of his boy and bore it into the tent. The skull had been crushed. The boy's death was not instantaneous, and his mother sat nursing the maimed body and refusing consolation.

Another child happened to be in the cage with the other lions doing an act on the program at the time of the accident and was rescued from the angry beasts with great difficulty. They smelt the blood and became excited at once. The constant roaring alarmed the crowd on the grounds. The lion was a great pet and had never been known to attempt to injure any one before. It was an especial favorite with Hurd.

TO ENJOIN BROWN COMPANY.

Striker at Cleveland Asks that the Militia Be Discharged from the Works.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 6.—The Central Labor union at a late hour last night concluded its anxiously awaited meeting, and failed to recommend the sympathetic strike. The old heads of the organization were against it, and at the last moment the representatives of the Brown strikers put in an entirely different request. The action which the union did take was along the lines of this request. They acceded to a demand for a boycott of far-reaching effect, and advised all the affiliated organizations to join in it. It is to demand all storekeepers to refuse to sell the militia or the non-union men, on the penalty of losing the trade of the unionists. As the territory around the Brown works is crowded with union laborers, on whose trade the storekeepers of the neighborhood depend, the weapon in the hands of union labor will be very effective.

William Stanley, a striker, filed in the common pleas court a petition asking that the Brown company be enjoined from having military at the works and be required to live up to its agreement. No temporary order has been issued thus far. Everything was quiet during the day in the neighborhood of the works.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League Yesterday.

By winning yesterday the Baltimore moved into first place, and they probably are there to stay. The Orioles are the best team of players. Why should they not win? They stopped the winning streak of the reconstructed Giants, who, by the way, are just now a much better team than at any time since 1894. Yesterday's games:

At Baltimore—
Baltimore 2 0 0 2 1 0 4 1 *—10
New York 0 0 0 3 0 1 0 0 —4
At Louisville—
Pittsburg 1 0 0 4 1 0 0 7 0—13
Louisville 1 0 4 3 0 0 1 0 0—9
At Brooklyn—
Brooklyn 0 0 6 1 0 0 0 1 *—8
Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—3
At Boston—
Boston 3 0 0 0 1 1 0 0—5

Schoolboys in a Fight.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 6.—News of a bloody fight among a crowd of schoolboys at Buckville, in Montgomery county, has reached here. Robert Chew and Beauregard Poole became involved in a rough and tumble fight, and the friends of both of the belligerents joined in the fray. Pocket-knives were used and several of the boys were dangerously wounded. Poole was stabbed in the breast several times and died of his wounds. Chew escaped and is as yet at large.

Decker Gave Himself Up.

Findlay, O., Aug. 6.—Amos Decker, the boy murderer who was arrested Tuesday night, in reality gave himself up of his own free will. He claims he fired the revolver to scare Miles, not to shoot him. Yesterday the mayor released Decker's father and three brothers, who were held as accomplices. There is much excitement and trouble is looked for to-night.

HOME FORUM PICNIC BE HELD AUG. 26

COUNTY FORUMS TO RALLY AT BELOIT THAT DAY.

Delegates From Lodges Within a Radius of Forty Miles Gather at the Line City to Perfect the Arrangements—Large Crowd Expected—County News.

The members of the Home Forum in Rock county will join in a picnic at Beloit on August 26. This was decided by a delegate convention held at Beloit yesterday.

The plan has been talked of by Beloit Forumites for some time and with a view of putting such plan in effect, the two Beloit Forums sent out invitations to the various Forums, within a radius of forty miles, calling a delegate convention.

In response to this invitation several Forums were represented at the meeting at G. A. R. hall, the delegates and a few guests, including the mayor, being served a dinner there.

After the refreshments the meeting was called to order by Dr. Buckner, who welcomed the visitors in behalf of the Beloit Forums, and introduced S. J. Caswell, of Rockford, grand secretary of the order, who spoke on the growth of the order and the desirability of having a picnic. He said it would "boom" the order and give the companions an opportunity to become acquainted. The Forum is growing remarkably, and it should be kept growing.

The Plans Completed.
Delegates were called upon as follows and all were in favor of having the picnic:

J. F. Phifer, Evansville.
J. E. Astell, Madison.
Mrs. S. M. and M. D. Beebe, Orford.
A. O. Gifford, Milton.
J. C. Rolston, Caledonia.
V. S. Davis, Newark.
Dr. Caswell, Rockford.
H. A. Oliver, Beloit.
B. D. Treas, Beloit.
A motion was finally passed that a picnic be held in Beloit, August 26, and picnic Association officers were elected as follows:
President—V. S. Davis.
Vice President—B. A. Oliver.
Secretary—Mrs. Whetstone.
A motion was passed requesting Forums to send a delegate to the picnic to settle upon the next place of meeting and elect officers.

THE PAST WEEK AT MAGNOLIA.

Charles Harnack is Better—Valuable Pearl Found—Other News Notes.

Magnolia Aug. 6—Charles Harnack, who for the past week has been lying at death's door is slowly gaining. Herman Andrew found two pearls in Sugar river last Saturday, which he sold for five dollars. Ed. Setzer also found a large button pearl which he values quite highly. C. C. Howard is pearly in Yellow creek. Mrs. Elta Graves and daughter, A. A. of Chicago are visiting relatives and friends here. Rev. Mr. Bloom will preach at the Advent church, Saturday night, Sunday morning and evening. Last Saturday night was the hottest night the jotters ever put in in trying to sleep. We hope the corn may have been benefited by the heat. Free silver is all the talk around here, well talk is cheap and McKinley will get there all the same. President Elger Pease preached a good sermon at the M. E. church last Sunday afternoon. Old Mrs. Frazer is under the doctor's care suffering from rheumatism. Mr. J. Worthing has returned from Superior. Alzer and Andrew are busy making cider. Apples are cheap here selling for 25 cents a bushel.

INDIAN FORD NEWS NOTES.

Work on the Bridge Goes on Rather Slowly.

Indian Ford, Aug. 6—Work on the bridge is progressing slowly. John Collins, of Janesville, is at work on the bridge. Mr. Dow, of Duluth, Minn., visited his sister, Mrs. Rogers, last week. The average price paid for milk at the Rock River creamery, for June, was fifty-three cents. Dr. McManus, of Edgerton, came very near getting tipped over in the river at the Ford, the other night. While trying to cross, his horse got scared. Mrs. John Collins, of Janesville, called on Ford friends, Tuesday. Mrs. D. N. Walrath and Mrs. Casson, of Southeast Fulton, were welcome visitors at Mr. and Mrs. R. Call's, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Loofbourough of Monsey, passed down the river in their boat looking for pearls. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chamberlain, visited Mr. George Scofield and family last Saturday. Henry Danks, wife and three children, of Southwest Kansas, were very well.

South Clinton Events

South Clinton, Aug. 6—Two threshing machines on adjoining farms make things lively. What hot weather, is the neighborly remark these days. Thermometers get close to a hundred in the shade. Mr. and Mrs. Elder of New London, Ohio, spent a day at C. J. Dresser's not long since. Mrs. Elder will be remembered as Miss Vada Gates, a former teacher in this neighborhood. Mrs. Benedict returned from Washington, D. C., last Saturday. Marion Dresser visited at Elbridge Gilbert's a portion of last week. Will and Carrie Olds were callers in this neighborhood on Saturday. W. E. and Clarence Dresser visited Beloit, Saturday, and again on Monday. A number of young people enjoyed a pleasant evening at Hiram Cooper's, Monday evening. Mrs. Cooper has a niece visiting her. Clarence Dresser is happy. It's a new bicycle, only.

News of South Turtle

South Turtle, Aug. 6—The Congregation Sunday school of Clinton, sent an invitation to the Murray Sunday school to join with them in their annual picnic at Carver's Rocks, Thursday. Our people were sorry to learn that Joe Ulrick, who runs a meat wagon through here, has been dangerously sick with typhoid fever. Cyrus Osborne was quite sick a portion of last week, at his father's home in Beloit. Dr. Walter Crockett left for Kansas last Tuesday, where he will practice medicine. Mrs. Crockett had a visit from her sister who lives in Beloit, last week. Rosetta Blaser was one of the fortunate ones who took in the concert at Shopiere last week. Ora Isham has returned from Madison. Mrs. Henry and Dan Smith visited Clinton last Saturday.

50 YEAR OLD WALL IS SOLID

Few New Stones Put In the Crossett & Bonesteel Mill Building

Contractors have been repairing a piece of masonry work that has stood the test for half a century, this week. The rear wall in the Crossett & Bonesteel mill has shown slight weakness and the spot has been replaced. The wall was erected fifty years ago by Ira Miltimore, and but for a few stones in it that have been removed, it is as strong today as the day it was built.

Most of the job offices now work under the "union label."

GRAVEL TRAIN SPLIT BY THE LIMITED

SMASH UPON THE C. & N. W. ROAD LAST NIGHT.

Midnight Vestibule Ran Into a Freight Near Irving Park and Was Delayed Four Hours in Consequence—No One Hurt but Damage Was Quite Extensive.

The C. & N. W. limited passenger train due here at midnight, crashed into a gravel train, last night, at Irving Park, and the result was Janesville passengers were landed in this city four hours late.

The train, which is now due in Janesville at 12:45 a. m. left Chicago on time in charge of Conductor White. By the time Irving Park is reached the train is running at the rate of fifty miles an hour. As the night was dark, the engineer of the vestibule failed to discover the gravel train until it was too late. Then he put on the brakes, but almost without a moment's warning the big mogul engine crashed into the caboose of the gravel train, making a clean cut clear through the caboose and into the gravel cars, throwing them in all directions.

When the crash came the passengers were thrown from their seats and it was some time before they realized just what had happened.

The gravel train which was in charge of Conductor Krouse was trying to reach a siding near Mayfair, in order to let the vestibule pass when the collision occurred. Their effort was not successful, however, and the accident was unavoidable.

Besides the wrecking of the gravel car and caboose, the passenger engine, No. 183, was so badly damaged that it was sent to the Chicago shops and engine No. 7 was sent out and hauled the train to this city. Conductor Krouse of the gravel train is well known in this city. No one, was injured in the accident.

THEY RODE ON THE TALLY-HO

Mr. Chase Takes Out a Merry Party on His Coach.

"Newspaper men and statesmen were the guests of C. C. Chase last evening," says the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin. "Mr. Chase is the proprietor of the tally-ho coach line which has been established in Milwaukee. He picked up his party at the Pfister last evening and drove up along the lake front, up Prospect avenue to North avenue, across North avenue bridge through Kilbourn park to Schlitz park, where a halt was made. The return trip to the Pfister was made via Eleventh street and Grand avenue. The ride proved enjoyable and the merry notes of the bugle and the big coach with its six big horses attracted lots of attention. The coach is one of those which was specially built to run from the Auditorium to the World's fair grounds. In Milwaukee it daily carries parties of Chicago excursionists about the city and in the evening it runs to Schlitz park from downtown. Among those who took the ride last evening were Congressman Barney, Congressman Otjea, M. C. Ring of Neillsville, J. M. Chapple, the Ashland newspaper man and J. C. Wilmarth, the Janesville editor."

LONG FLIGHTS OF BIRDS.

A Shore Bird Which Goes Two Thousand Miles Over an Ocean.

The distance which birds travel is marvelous, the naturalists say, and laymen are inclined to believe them. W. Herbert Purvis writes to the London Field that every spring great numbers of golden and ringed plover arrive in the Hawaiian Islands, and leave the first week of May. The nearest points of the American coast to which they go are in Southern California and the Alaska peninsula respectively, about 2,000 geographical miles, and there is no intervening land. It may be that the birds drop into the water to rest occasionally, as ducks do, during such long flights, but it is not probable. This is the longest regular flight known of shore birds over water, but it is known pretty certainly that some sea birds fly as a regular thing much further than this during their migrations. The brant geese, for instance, are said to nest in Siberia, and to fly north over the Arctic Ocean and south again to Cape Hatteras, or thereabouts and beyond, every year.

Justice as Dispensed in Texas.

"There are only half a dozen houses in Langtry, Texas," says a gossip in the Philadelphia Record, "and one of them is a combination 'beer and law shop,' presided over by Judge Roy Bean, who is the most autocratic and most original judge in all Texas. As the name of the town is Langtry, the judge, who reads the papers, has quite appropriately named his place the 'Jersey Lily.' His business sign bears this sign: 'Ice Cold Beer and Law West of the Pecos.' The Pecos river is the eastern boundary of the judge's circuit, which embraces 500 miles of wildest Texas. Once when a Texan pleaded guilty before him of killing a Chinaman, the judge said: 'There ain't any law in Texas agin killin' a Chinaman. Prisoner's discharged.' On another occasion a man was brought before him for stealing a cow valued at about $4. 'Well,' said the judge, 'you'll pay $250 fine or hang.' The prisoner protested that the cow was only worth a few dollars. 'Shut up!' yelled the judge. 'Come up with $250 or you hang.' The prisoner came up."

The Kaiser Not Yet Crowned.

The German Emperor has never been crowned; neither was his father, Emperor Frederick. In the case of the present Kaiser, the ceremony was omitted for economical reasons. Emperor Frederick died before there could be any talk of a coronation, though whether it would have taken place, even had the Emperor lived, is doubtful. Prussian kings have the right to crown themselves if they wish it, and the privilege of dispensing with the ceremony if it is preferable. Kaiser Wilhelm I. was probably crowned because he was not the direct heir to the throne, being the son of Friedrich Wilhelm III. Friedrich Wilhelm IV. had no sons.

A Color Study.

"Sir," said a disappointed artist in water colors to one of the jury of awards at the art exhibit, "my name is Brown, and I am white with rage to think that you should be so green as to call my painting yellow. My spirits are blue and my eyes red with weeping, as I look upon the black future."

Indifference.

If the American republic falls it will be through indifference—our accursed "good nature which blinds us to our dangers." Indifference is the besetting menace to the perpetuity of our form of government.—Rabbi Joseph Stolz.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

Every time it will cure Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhoea by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is of great value for local application.

Will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

Every time it will cure Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhoea by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is of great value for local application.

CAMPAIGN LEAFLET NO. 1.

"Sixteen to one; What it means;"

is the title of Leaflet No. 1, just issued by the republican national committee.

The leaflet has the following extract from the democratic platform adopted at Chicago at the head of the first page:

"Chicago platform of 1896: The free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1. The standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender equally with gold for all debts, public and private."

Then following this comes the explanation:

"Sixteen to one, what it means. A silver dollar weighs sixteen times as much as a gold dollar. That is what is meant by the coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Free coinage of silver. When brought to the mint silver shall be coined into dollars at the expense of the United States government without cost to the owner. By the unlimited coinage of silver is meant that all the silver, American or foreign, brought to any of our mints shall be so coined at the owners demand. This is what is meant by the free and unlimited coinage."

"When the ratio of 16 to 1 was established by the government, sixteen ounces of silver bullion were worth in the market just as much as one ounce of gold bullion. A silver dollar and a gold dollar were then worth precisely the same, before they were coined, when they were coined, or after they were melted; the face value of a silver dollar was its actual value. But of late years pure silver has declined in value, so that now the commercial ratio, instead of being 16 to 1, is about 31 to 1. That is to say, an ounce of gold bullion is exchangeable for thirty-one ounces of silver bullion, instead of being exchangeable for only sixteen ounces of silver bullion, as it formerly was. Silver bullion is thus worth in gold only about half as much as it was when the coinage ratio was made 16 to 1.

A silver dollar with the stamp of the government upon it passes for more than it is worth, just as paper dollar passes for more than the paper upon which it is printed is worth. The credit of the government is behind the paper dollar, and the credit of the government is behind the silver dollar. The United States Government lends its credit to every man with a silver dollar in his pocket, so that he can pay 100 cents of debt with 53 cents worth of silver. But the credit of the government is not behind the uncoined silver, in the form of bullion, therefore the bullion is exchangeable for other commodities only to the amount of its actual or intrinsic value.

"The free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 means, therefore, that the government of the United States, instead of pledging its credit for the maintenance of a limited amount of silver, now worth only 31 to 1, at a parity with gold, would have to do so for an unlimited amount at a ratio of 16 to 1. By this the United States would undertake to double the value of every ounce of silver coined or uncoined in the world, and extend an invitation to all the nations to send their surplus silver here to be coined into silver dollars at a ratio of 16 to 1.

"These silver dollars, if coined in an unlimited quantity, would not be worth as much as gold dollars, because it is the credit of the government which makes those we now have equal in purchasing power to a gold dollar, and the credit of the government is not without limit. Unlimited coinage of silver would exhaust its credit by exhausting its power to redeem its pledges to maintain silver at a parity with gold at a ratio of 16 to 1. The consequence would be that the silver dollar would soon decline in purchasing power to the commercial value of the bullion it contains, and would be worth little, if any more, than half a dollar in gold.

"As all private and public debts not exactly payable in gold would then be payable in these half rate dollars, our gold would disappear from circulation and would quickly be drawn out of the country in paying our obligations and purchases from gold-using countries where our silver coins would not be accepted. As a consequence we should in a few months lose all of our $612,000,000 of gold, leaving us with a much contracted and greatly depreciated currency.

"A disastrous panic would ensue, followed by the suspension of thousands of factories and business houses, a general business collapse, and the loss of employment by hundreds of thousands of wage-earners and laborers. Under our present monetary system, and until the agitation of the free coinage of silver became a dangerous menace to business and labor, we had the most prosperous years ever known in American history."

The number of newspapers that supported Cleveland but have bolted Bryan, is now 152, and twenty-four are German. It is the greatest landslide in the newspaper world since 1860.

Just for purposes of contrast, a list of republican papers that have bolted McKinley, and of democratic papers that have bolted Bryan, should be put side by side.

General Bragg wants the state democratic convention to dewhiskerize the party platform.

ANTI-SILVER TICKET.

Gold Democrats Favor It—Many States Represented.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Anti-silver democrats who have been leading the gold movement in Illinois left today for Indianapolis to attend the conference, which it is expected will call a second democratic national convention. The "sound money democracy" national headquarters were closed, and it rests with the Indianapolis conference whether or not they will be reopened in Chicago.

Yesterday, from sources regarded as official, the committee was informed that the following representatives from the various states would be at Indianapolis: Alabama, J. M. Falkner; California, ex-Mayor E. B. Pond; Connecticut, David A. Wells, Charles G. Root and Joel Sperry; Florida, J. L. Gaskins, with D. W. Ambler, as alternate; Illinois, John M. Palmer; Indiana, John R. Wilson; Iowa, L. M. Martin; Kansas, Eugene Hagen; Kentucky, R. T. Tyler; Massachusetts, ex-Mayor N. Matthews, Jr.; Michigan, the Hon. Thomas A. Wilson; Minnesota, F. W. M. Cutcheon; Mississippi, Edgar S. Wilson; Missouri, L. C. Krauthoff; Montana, Charles C. Conrad; Nebraska, Euclid Martin; New Hampshire, Gordon Woodbury; New York, ex-Congressman Charles Tracey; Committee man George Foster Peabody alternate; Ohio, C. E. S. Wood; Pennsylvania, John C. Bullitt and George F. Baer; South Carolina, T. F. Tolly; Tennessee, W. L. Frierson, A. S. Caldwell and other representatives not yet reported to committee here; Texas, Geo. Clark, M. L. Crawford and J. H. Smith; Virginia, ex-Congressman E. C. Venable and the Hon. Joseph Bryan; Washington, Judge Thomas Burke; West Virginia, H. S. Simms and R. Stalnaker; Wisconsin, Ellis B. Usher.

TURKS NEED MONEY BADLY.

Unable to Pay Officials—Futile Attempts to Effect a Loan.

Constantinople, Aug. 6.—The financial difficulties of the government are most acute. Officials on the civil list have not received their salaries for seven months and when some of them complained they were arrested. The sultan is paying some of the officials out of his private purse. Negotiations in progress with London bankers to capitalize the Cyprus tribute have been broken off, owing to the excessive demands of the Turkish government, which counted upon getting from this source the sum of £450,000 with which to replenish its coffers.

Ex-Gov. Anthony Is Dead.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 6.—Ex-Gov. George T. Anthony died at 10:35 Wednesday night. He had been ill about three weeks. He was governor of Kansas from 1877 to 1879 and was appointed superintendent of insurance by Gov. Morrill, which office he held up to the time of his death. He leaves a widow and one child.

BOY ROBBERS DID A VERY BOLD JOB

F. F. PIERSON'S CASH DRAWER TAPPED YESTERDAY.

Two Boys Did the Work While Mr. Pierson Was at Work in the Back End of the Store—Officer Hogan Arrests One of Them and He Makes a Confession.

Masters Willie Brooks and George Moran boldly walked into F. F. Pierson's gun store, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and rifled the money drawer of its contents some four dollars in small change.

At the time of the robbery Mr. Pierson and his son Roy were working in the rear of the store. They noticed two boys enter, and Mr. Pierson asked them what they wished. The Brooks boy replied that he was there to take home a bicycle for his sister, who would shortly be along to rent one. "Who is your sister?" Mr. Pierson asked.

"My sister's name is Hattie Barnes, and she wanted me to wait until she came," replied Master Brooks. Mr. Pierson told the boys to take a seat, and resumed his work. Afterward he looked toward the front door and noticed one of the boys coming from behind the counter.

Brooks boy caught. Thinking that nothing was wrong, he let the boys depart, and when it was too late he made the discovery that the money drawer had been rifled. Mr. Pierson, at the time of the robbery did not know who the young men were, but gave Officer Hogan a description of the lads, and he started out to look for the boys. From the description given Officer Hogan suspected Brooks and Moran, and when a boy told him that Brooks had some money in his pocket, Officer Hogan at once went to the Brooks home. When the Brooks boy saw Officer Hogan and Mr. Pierson coming he tried to get away, but was caught by Mr. Pierson, while Officer Hogan was hitting the horse.

Moran has not yet been arrested. The Brooks boy confessed, and said that he was mostly to blame in the matter. He lives with his grandmother, Mrs. Murphy on South Locust street. Moran lives at the corner of Linn and North streets.

SALOON MAN SOLD MUCH BEER

Three Barrels Full Went Over the Bar in Schooners, Yesterday.

DEATH ENDS EARTHLY WOES

Mrs. Amanda Powers.

Mrs. Amanda Powers died at Girard Ohio, after an illness of five days. She had lived at Footville, Wis., for a number of years with her sister, Mrs. Pierce Wallihan, who died last fall, after which Mrs. Powers returned to her former home via Ohio, making her home there with her brother. She had many friends here who knew her as a quiet, conscientious, christian woman and they will be sorry to hear of her death. Though her illness was of short duration she suffered a great deal and was delirious most of the time, only being rational a few minutes at a time. Funeral services were held at Girard but the remains were taken to Warren, Ohio, for burial. Kind friends gave her every care while sick and loving hands covered her casket with flowers.

Henry Faville.

Henry Faville, aged eighteen years, son of Rev. John Faville of Appleton, died yesterday at Lake Mills, at appendicitis. Mr. Faville was taken sick on Saturday, and an operation was decided to be necessary. The operation was performed on Tuesday by Dr. Reeves of Appleton, assisted by Dr. Dubois of Lake Mills, but it was of no avail, and death ended the young man's sufferings today. The sad news came to Janesville in the form of a telegram to S. D. Conant.

Mrs. James Nash.

Mrs. James Nash died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, after a lingering illness of six months duration. Mrs. Nash was sixty-two years of age and had been a resident of Janesville for the past forty years. Besides a husband she leaves a family of five children, two sons and three daughters, Mrs. Levi Horn and Mrs. John Carver, of Waukesha, and Mary, John and Thomas, all of this city.

Funeral of C. V. Curtiss.

Funeral services over the remains of C. V. Curtiss, were held this morning at 8 o'clock, from the Academy street residence, Rev. R. K. Manion officiating. The remains were shipped to Darlington.

More Sheeting.

You remember a few days ago, perhaps ten days, we offered unbleached sheeting at 11 cents a yard, and a good many hundred yards too. We even sold the entire lot in two days. Many people since then have besieged us for the goods at that price, and today we received and placed on sale thirty pieces more, 1,500 yards at the same price 11 cents a yard. There will be a great call for it, the price is so cheap and the bargain so genuine, so that if you contemplate purchasing, hurry along. There are not as many yards as we offered before, and it won't last as long. Bort, Bailey & Co.

AUSTIN IS IN JAIL FOR USING FISTS

EVANSVILLE HAS SOMETHING TO TALK OF NOW.

Dr. Spencer Caused His Arrest For Fast Driving and When the Two Men Met Afterwards Austin Proceeded to Get Even—Given 15 Days Sentence.

Than Austin, of Evansville, is in the Janesville jail for fifteen days, and thereby hangs a tale.

Evansville has a city ordinance to prevent fast driving, and Austin had a horse that could go fast.

The result was, that Austin was arrested under the city ordinance, and fined $8 and costs, for violating that regulation. The complaint was made by Dr. Spencer, and Austin was very mad at the doctor in consequence.

When he met the doctor on the street, after the case had been passed upon, Austin attacked him, and proceeded to "get even." The doctor was quite roughly handled, and after the fracas, caused the arrest of Austin, on the charge of assault and battery. Justice Phillips heard the case, and sentenced Austin to fifteen days in jail, not giving him the opportunity to pay a fine.

There seems to be considerable feeling over the matter at Evansville. Friends of Austin insist that the ordinance has not been rigidly enforced, and that its enforcement in Austin's case was hardly warranted.

Dr. Spencer's friends, on the other hand, insist that the defendant has received his just dues.

In Doubt.

The man who tries to be careful in the use of his language wore a puzzled expression and was silent.

"What's the matter?" his wife inquired.

"I am in doubt as to what reply I ought to make to your question. You asked me some minutes since how I spent this afternoon."

"Yes."

"Well, I will have to leave it to your own judgment. When a man takes a wheel out and walks up hill with it four or five miles, and rides it four or five miles, has he been on a bicycle ride or a pedestrian tour?"—Washington Star.

A Useful Book.

"Did you receive a copy of my poems?" asked a Dallas poet of Mrs. Chaffie.

"Yes, indeed; I was delighted with them. Where did I put that beautiful little book?"

"You put it under the leg of the table in the dining-room to keep it from wabbling," interrupted Johnnie.—Texas Sifter.

A Souvenir.

JANESVILLE, WIS.

BUT FEW WENT ON THE EXCURSION

BUT FEW JANESVILLIANS VISITED DEVILS LAKE.

Four Coaches That Had Been Sent Here to Accommodate the Bower City People Were Not Used—Twelve Hundred People Came in From the South.

About 1,200 strangers visited Janesville today, but their stay in this city was limited to ten minutes. They were on the excursion train that was headed for Devils Lake. At 9:20 o'clock this morning an excursion train pulled into the city from Harvard, the coaches being about one-third filled, but at 10 o'clock section No. 2 arrived from Chicago in charge of Conductor Pescham. The special consisted of twelve coaches and 866 people were aboard. But few people joined the party here, the number being in the neighborhood of twenty. Four coaches were in readiness for the Janesvillians, but they were left here.

BOY HURT BY FALLING FROM BED

His Collar Bone Was Broken and Painful Bruises Inflicted

The little four year old son of Herman Carl accidentally fell out of bed last evening and bruised himself about the shoulders besides breaking his collar bone. Mr. Carl resides on First street in Monterey, and has been rather unfortunate with his children, one of his boys having been killed by the cars in this city last summer.

SOME OF MY COUNTRY KIN.

Here are some of my country kin (Come to visit me.) Walk right in.
I know you have journeyed many a mile—
Take off your bonnets and rest awhile.

(What funny old fashioned bonnets they are,
But I wouldn't tell them so for a start!)
How lovely you look and how sweet you smell!
What have you come to ask or to tell?

Indeed! That's news. (I must make a note
Of all they say for some poet to quote.)
"The young Lord Agell and Lady May Met in the woods and kissed today."

"A mocking bird heard the kiss and made
A song just like it, so it is said.
And listening to that telltale bird
The sap in the oldest tree was stirred."

"The naked boughs into green leaves slipped;
The longings bled into flowers tripped;
The little hills smiled as if they were glad;
The little rills ran as if they were mad."

"There was green on the earth and blue in the sky.
The chrysalis changed to a butterfly,
And our lovers, the honey bees, all a-hum,
To hunt for our hearts began to come."

"All the woods are a-thrill with life and love,
From the proud old oak to the cooing dove,
And all because of that telltale bird,
Who set to music the kiss he heard."

—Outing.

MONTHS AFTERWARD

"Gossip—it's a confounded nuisance, that's what I call it! Why can't they let us alone? I am accustomed to any amount of gossip. People must have something to talk about, and I'm sure I'm delighted to be able to afford them any amusement, but when it comes to being smacked on the back and congratulated six times in one afternoon, it's coming in a bit too strong. I don't mind for my own sake—a man can look after himself—but I'm thinking of you. I was in hopes that you had not heard."

"Not heard, indeed! I had two letters this morning and three this afternoon—four wanting to know when the wedding was to be and the fifth from a girl asking to be bridesmaid. I am afraid to go out. People fly at me at every corner, shake my hand off and say how delighted they are and how charming it is and how they always knew it would come to this and that we are made for one another—they never did know two people so exactly suited."

"Extraordinary! That's what they say to me. I never was so taken back in my life. Of course, we've always been good friends, but—"

"Certainly not."

"And I don't think—"

"Neither do I. It's absurd! Utter nonsense!"

"No, but really—let us have it out while we are about it. What can have given rise to such a ridiculous report?
We have been a good deal together, of course, because we are in the same set,
and always seem to hit it off, and you are such a jolly good dancer and all that kind of thing, but I can't see what we have done to set people talking at this rate. Honestly, now—I am anxious to know—did you ever imagine—that is to say, did you think—I mean, have I ever?"

"You never have! No, Captain May,
and I have never imagined! On the contrary I don't mind admitting now that we are upon the subject that I have cherished a secret grudge against you because you have never given me an opportunity of refusing you. That sort of neglect rankles in a woman's mind, and now you see for yourself the awkward position in which it has placed me.
When people ask if I am engaged to you, I am obliged to confess that I have never been asked. You ought to have thought of this and provided against it.
It would have been so easy some night
at a ball, or in an interval at the theater—the whole thing might have been over in five minutes—and then I should have been able to say that I had refused you, and everything would have been happy and comfortable. I don't feel as if I could ever forgive you!"

"Sorry, indeed! You see, I should have been most happy, only I could never feel quite sure that you really would be."

"How odious you are! You need not have been afraid; there never was anything more certain since the beginning of the world. I wouldn't marry you to save your life! I would as soon think of falling in love with the man in the moon! We have always been friends, of course, but that counts for nothing.
One may like a person very much and yet find it quite impossible to go any farther. I could better love a horseman!"

"Same with me! I think no end of you, but when Lewis came and congratulated me the other day I was struck
all of a heap. If he had said the same thing about a dozen other girls I should have been less surprised, but it never occurred to me to look upon you in that light."

"Oh, indeed! I'm awfully obliged,
I'm sure, but I don't think much of your taste. There are a dozen other men who wouldn't agree with you; that's one comfort. As I am so utterly repulsive in your eyes, I think I had better say 'Good afternoon' at once and relieve you of my presence."

"What nonsense you talk! I never said a word about your appearance that I know of. That's the worst of arguing with a woman; she flies off at a tangent,
and there's no doing any good with her.
I don't see why you should be offended.
You seemed to think it quite impossible to fall in love with me."

"That's different. I mean I don't care what you think, but other people think—that's to say, I have always been told. Some people think I am very nice, if you don't. I think it's perfectly hateful of you to say such things. I should like to know, just as a matter of curiosity, what it is in me you object to so much."

"You won't like it, you know, when you do hear; you'll be in a bigger rage
than ever. Much better leave it alone.
Well, if you will have it, I dislike the way you do your hair. Wait a moment.
It means more than you think. It is not only ugly in itself, but it shows a fatal want of perception. Your beauty

—if you will allow me to say so—is of a classic order, and if you adopted a more natural style of coiffure your appearance would really be—er—uncommonly fetching. 'Stead of that, you persist in following a hideous exaggeration of fashion, which destroys your individuality and is utterly unsuited to your style. It seems a small thing in itself, but it has far-reaching consequences. The moment we meet I notice
it, don't you know, and feel annoyed.
The whole time I am with you I am worrying about it. It sets up a chronic state of exasperation. Perhaps you don't understand the feeling!"

"Oh, yes, I do! I feel the same toward you because you will insist on wearing enormous stand up collars. I call that a want of perception, if you like. I wouldn't be personal for the world, but I have seen men with longer necks.
When you want to speak to your neighbor, you have to twist your whole body.
It makes me die with laughing to see you."

"Delighted to afford you so much amusement. Sorry I make myself so ridiculous. You are excessively polite, I'm sure."

"You were a great deal worse yourself. You said that I!"

"Nothing of the kind. You misunderstood me. I simply remarked!"

"Don't contradict! You said I was an ugly thing, and that it exasperated you only to see me. You did! It makes it worse to deny it. I can't think how you can look me in the face!"

"Why get excited? It's really not worth while, and you will make yourself hot. It is not becoming to be hot. I was about to say when you so rudely interrupted me that you had misunderstood the meaning of my remarks. I simply observed!"

"I don't care a little bit what you observed. I am not going to talk to you any longer. Good afternoon, Captain May. You needn't dance with me at Lady Bolton's this evening, as my hair annoys you so much."

"I shall ask Miss Cunliffe instead.
She is a capital waltzer. Your mother is waiting for you at the door. Fourth and sixth, wasn't it, and the first extra?
I must ask her at once, as she is so much engaged. Good afternoon, then, Miss Blanchard, if you will go, and as the good little boys say, 'Thank you so much for the pleasant afternoon!'"

ON THE WAY HOME—HER SOLILOQUY.

"He never thought of such a thing.
It never occurred to him to think of her in that light. Hateful creature! And why not, I should like to know? Doesn't he think I'm nice?  I never cared for him, but he has no business not to like me. What horrid taste!"

"And to talk of a dozen other girls!
That means Lucie Charvie, I suppose,
and Adeline Rowe. I have noticed that he dances with them.  I don't see why he should like them better than me. I'm the prettiest, and I can be awfully nice if I like. I have never been really nice to him, not my very nicest, or he wouldn't have talked as he did to-
day.  I might try the effect this evening."

"I meant to be offended, but perhaps the other would have more effect. I believe I'll try it. No one can ever say that I am a flirt, but there are occasions
when it is a girl's duty to teach a man
a lesson, and he had no business to say that about my hair.  I wonder if he was right? He has awfully good taste as a rule."

"I believe, after all, it would be rather becoming.  I'll get Elsie to try tonight and wear my new white dress and the pearls, and I'll say to him
the very first thing that I'm sorry and ask him to dance with me all the same.
Then, when he sees how nice I am, he will be vexed with himself for being so nasty. It will do him no end of good."

"I'd give worlds if he would only propose to me before the season is over!
I'd refuse him, of course, but that wouldn't matter; it would be kind of me to take the trouble, because it is dreadful to see a man so conceited, and, if it were not for that, he would be quite charming.  I'll begin this evening. How exciting! Poor Captain May!"

HIS SOLILOQUY.

"She looked disgracefully pretty.
Nothing like putting a girl in a good stand up rage to see what she's made of. I never knew she had so much in her before. And she would just as soon think of falling in love with the man in the moon, wouldn't she? That's pretty tall! Hang it all, why do they put things in a fellow's head? I was happy enough before, and now this has unsettled me altogether.  A man may not want to marry a girl, but that's no reason why she should be so precious indifferent."

"I always fancied that she had a decided weakness.  So she wants to laugh at me, does she? Little wretch!
She is always up to some mischief."

"I wouldn't object if it was at some other fellow, for those dimples are uncommonly fetching."

"I believe she is right about the collars, all the same; thought so myself more than once. If another shape would suit me better, it seems rather absurd
to stick to these. 'Man in the moon,' eh? Humph! Well, it doesn't do to be too awfully sure; it's a bad thing to get into the way of boasting. How would it be if I took her in hand and tried to work a cure? Do her all the good in the world to be brought down a peg or two and find her own level, and the process
would not be unpleasant. Hi, caddy!
Stop at the first decent hosiery you come
to. I want to get out."

Extract from The Times of four months later:
"On the 28th inst., at St. George's, Hanover square, by Right Rev. the bishop of Oxbridge, assisted by Rev. Noel Blanchard, the brother of the bride,
Carl Aubrey May, captain of the Royal Horse guards, second son of James Eaton May, Esq., of Brompton Manor, Hants, to Phyllis Mary Olivia, only daughter of Major Blanchard of Bar-
combe, County Wicklow, and Floreine."

AN OVERWORKED WORD.

The Humble but Indispensable Word
and Is Much Abused.

Among many sins of the lazy and shiftless penman, the most flagrant is the overworking of that humble, but indispensable word and, says Lippincott's. This abuse is growing rapidly, even with some who might otherwise claim to be good writers. Nothing is gained by it, of course, and a great deal is lost. There is neither sense nor humanity in breaking the back of a harmless and helpful beast of burden,
so that it becomes an object of horror to the fastidious and of commiseration to the charitable. For such cases another Bergh should arise and form a new society, which might protect the innocent and prosecute the offenders. A critical journal, noticing the last amusing work of a popular novelist, pointed out a sentence containing twenty-two (or was it twenty-seven?) inflections of this mild connective. The proof reader was evidently in abeyance here, or he would have suppressed most of the ands, displaced commas by periods or colons, and cut the overgrown sentence into six, or perhaps thirteen. This way of writing is like that of the preacher who does not know when to stop, or of the magazinist who exceeds his limits because he has no time to make the article shorter. Any of these calls to mind the youth of 6 feet and 12 years
only, all of whose strength had gone into his length. Compression, with consideration, is a good way to gain force,
and inconsiderate expansion and repetition, even of the mere copula, a sure way to lose it. When Mr. Fields was editing the Atlantic, he once offered Dr.
Holmes $100 for an article of six pages (or thereabouts), and less if it was longer. Yet Dr. Holmes could never have indited a sentence like this:

"He rang the bell and was admitted and entered the parlor, and took a chair and waited some time, and at length Clarinda came down and apologized for the delay, and he invited her to ride, and she agreed, and they started, and the horse ran away and they were both thrown out, and she was killed and he badly hurt, and—" so on ad infinitum, through details of the funeral and his subsequent career.

Nobody, it may be presumed, writes
this way on purpose, it is because, like
the majority of juvenile delinquents,
they "didn't think."

PIPE AND TOBACCO.

Endless Argument Between the Smoker
and the Anti-Weed Man.

When you introduce a smoking centenarian to the notice of an anti-tobacco fanatic he usually retorts that the man would have been 101 by now if he had never smoked, says the Pitt Mall Gazette. Whether the old man upon whom an inquest was held at St.
Bartholomew's hospital recently would have been a centenarian by now if he had been an anti-tobacco fanatic will never be known; as it was, he just failed by something under two months.

Born on March 1, 1796, he became an habitual smoker at the early age of 15.
A man who manages to keep his pipe going from a year before Moscow to a fortnight after Krugersdorp seems at first sight rather a nasty one for the anti-tobacco fanatic. But, on the whole, perhaps, the fanatic scores, because the old man had been for years accustomed to smoke in bed, a practice which, as every smoker knows, presents that happy combination of enjoyment with risk which our nation always loves to find in its manly sports, and the other day he was found in bed so badly burned that he had only time to ejaculate "pipe and tobacco"
as an exclamation before he died.
How does the argument stand, then?
It is a nice question but personally we do not object to a glorious death like that if some one will only guarantee us eighty-four years of unbroken smoking as a preliminary.

A "Junk-Shop,"
A "Blacksmith,"
"Two-Cent Apple Butter"
"Rotten Stock" and A "Hunchback,"

is a poor combination from which to expect a production of anything respectable in the job printing line.

A "junk shop" means a worn-out assortment of type, rules, etc.; a "blacksmith" is a bung-
le-some printer; "two-cent apple butter" is synonymous of the poorest quality of printing ink; "rotten stock" is poor-made and cheap paper; and a "hunchback" is a press which is so old that it has naturally worn out of shape and usage.

We Take a Pride

in our job printing equipment, our skill and our materials; that's the reason why we do such splendid work.

AN IRISH ALBINO.

He Will Be the Next Town Clerk of Jamestown, N. Y.

An albino—an Irish albino—with hair as white as the driven snow, and a brogue as rich as his eyes are pale, is going to be the next clerk of the city of Jamestown, N. Y. At the Republican primaries he received the nomination, and defeated five other seekers after the office with dignity and ease. In the rock-ribbed Republican stronghold a nomination by the G. O. P. is equivalent to an election, and the albino is sure to be the next clerk of the city. In two months all the municipal documents will bear the signature of Charles O. McCormick as clerk, and there is not a voter in town who is not willing to stake his reputation as a prophet that the Irish albino will make one of the most capable and satisfactory officials that the place ever had. His affliction is one of those rare and curious freaks of nature for which men of science never have been able to give an explanation. His father was a perfect type of the sturdy Irish peasant, with dark brown hair and mustache, deep blue eyes and a complexion inclined to be red and florid. His mother was also of the same type, although her hair was much lighter in color and her skin fairer. Neither had any physical ailment, but of the four children born to them all except one are albinos. The future clerk is the eldest child, and is about 25 years old. If anything, the characteristics of the albino are more marked and prominent in him than in any of his brothers and sisters. His skin is of a pallid chalky hue, and is extremely delicate and tender. The hair and eyebrows are as white as flour, and the eyelashes are of the same color. The eyes themselves are of a pale, faded-out blue, and are so weak that only with the most powerful glasses can he read.

What She Liked.

"I hope, Mr. Soonly," murmured the young lady, "that you do not let your right hand know what your left hand doeth." "I-I never do," answered young Mr. Soonly, as with his left arm resting on the back of her chair he felt nervously around with the piece of mistletoe he had brought in his pocket. "I am glad to know it," she resumed shortly afterward as she arranged her hair. "There is nothing like being close-mouthed." So he acted on that hint also.—New York Recorder.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten, there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness."

What He Knew About It.
"Have you seen Mathilde's new dress?" asked Mrs. Cumrox.
"No, I haven't seen Mathilde's new dress," was the not very genial reply; "and what is more, I don't want to see it."

"I should think you would have enough of the sentiments of a father about you to take an interest in what Mathilde wears."
"I can find out all I want to know about Mathilde's dresses," he rejoined, persisting in his own pronunciation, "without seeing them."
"Oh, indeed. Then perhaps you can describe the material of this one."

"I can; not minutely, but none the less accurately. The most conspicuous thing about the material is a large check. I feel sure about that, because I wrote the check myself."—Washington Star.

Evidence of Luck.

"Lucky? Well, I should say he was. He's one of the luckiest men that ever was born."
"What makes you think so?"
"Think so! I don't think so; I know it. Why, sir, that man actually put down an umbrella in a public hallway on a rainy day and thoughtlessly left it there 15 minutes without losing it."—Chicago Post.

Misplaced Sympathy.

Mr. Textly—My dear old friend, I am shocked and grieved to notice that the destroying angel has visited your home. Old Bonder—What do you mean?
Mr. Textly—I was alluding to that band of erape which you are wearing. Old Bonder (looking at his hat)—Jee-willikins! I must have traded hats with that fellow in the barber shop.—Bay City Chat.

The Beautiful Scorchers.

She rode along the road
In a costume a la mode
And threw a gleam of sunshine on the pike,
As she gripped the handle bar,
And she beat the trolley car,
And her golden hair was hanging down her bike.
—Boston Courier.

Every Man to His Trade.

Jinks (at a variety entertainment)—That fellow in front of us was about the only one who didn't applaud the good old song, "Don't Despise a Man Because He Wears a Ragged Coat." He must be a regular aristocrat, isn't he?
Blinks—Well, I dunno. Maybe he's a tailor.—N. Y. Weekly.

Perfectly Fiendish.

Husband—Don't you think you are rather unreasonable to expect me to take you to a ball, stay awake until four o'clock and then get up at eight to go to work?
Wife—I may be a little unreasonable, but it's perfectly brutal of you to mention it.—Odds and Ends.

Could Not Wait.

The Old Man (tearfully)—And you want to take my only daughter from me in my old age! Can you not wait?
The Sutor—Well, no, not exactly. I don't mind taking her in your old age, but I don't care about taking her in hers.—N. Y. World.

Knowledge Lends Power.

Kate—Has Charlie acquired any accomplishments since he went to college?
Flossie—I should say he had. You ought to see how easily he keeps a cigarette in his mouth when he's talking.—Tit-Bits.

Their Value.

Prize these little summer outings:
Far and wide make haste to roam
Just to emphasize the comfort
That is only found at home.
—Chicago Record.

JUVENILE GENEROSITY.

Mummy—Oh, you cruel boy! You're making your brother cry.
Algernon—No, Mummy, I ain't—I'm only sharing my cod-liver oil with him—wot you said was so nice.—English Comic Paper.

When Lovely Woman.

When lovely woman guides a wheel,
Or points, perchance, the light canoe,
If thou dost value life, edge near What she's supposed to steer into.
—N. Y. World.

Kind Offer.

Highwayman—Your money or your life.
Poet—Money I have none, but if you will tell me of some of your adventures I will write them down and divide the profits with you.—Fliegende Blaetter.

The Starting Point.

Whiffles—Have you read the new novel, "When His Love Grew Cold?"
Shuffles—No; but I judge it must have been the first time he saw her in bicycle costume.—Philadelphia North American.

Not Built That Way.

Justice—You are charged with stealing Col. Julep's chickens. Have you any witnesses?
Uncle Moses—I heb not. I don't steal chickens befo' witnesses.—Amusing Journal.

Force of Habit.

Brown—I understand that old Smith married his cook.
Jones—Yes. She suggested it and he forgot that he had any choice in the matter.—Brooklyn Life.

Unreasonable.

Edna—I prefer people to say just what they think of me.
Edith—You could hardly expect so much candor as that.—Up-to-Date.
